DETAILED ACTION

Oath/Declaration

There exists a discrepancy between the oath and the specification with regards to the filing dates of Provisional applications 60/421,263 and 60/421,435. In the specification, page 1, lines 6 and 7, the filing date assigned to the applications was October 25, 2002. However, in the oath submitted on 3/4/2004, on page 2, the filing dates assigned to the provisional applications is October 25, 2003. Appropriate correction of the filing dates for provisional applications 60/421,263 and 60/421,435 in oath is required.

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election of Group IV, claims 54-68 in the reply filed on February 16, 2006 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)). Claims 1-53 have been withdrawn from consideration.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 54-68 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tapscott (US 6,300,378).

Tapscott teaches compositions comprising bromine-containing alkenes (column 9, lines 45-61), for example $\text{CH}_2=\text{CHCF}_2\text{Br}$ or $\text{CH}_2=\text{CBrCF}_3$, as claimed in claims 54 and 56-59, in combination with refrigerants, foam blowing agents, solvents, propellants and sterilants (column 11, lines 13-16), as claimed in claim 54 and 65. Tapscott further teaches that the compositions comprise 1-80% bromine-containing additive, specifically 5-50% for foam blowing agents (column 10, lines 51-62) as claimed in claim 64. Tapscott further teaches that the compositions have low (near zero) global warming potentials (column 11, lines 39-42), as claimed in claim 55. Tapscott further teaches that the hepatotoxicity is reduced by at least partially fluorinating (column 7, lines 47-50) as claimed in claims 66-68. Tapscott further teaches that the compositions may further contain 0.1-99% bromine-containing alkene combined with siloxanes, ketones, ethers (column 12, claim 1) among other solvents well known in the art to be efficient lubricants, compatibilizers and stabilizers as claimed in claims 60,61 and 63.

While Tapscott is silent as to the percentage of solvent, if at least 50% bromine-containing alkene was utilized, greater than 30% by weight lubricant, such as siloxane could be utilized as claimed in claim 62.

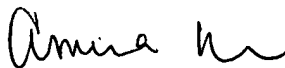

Regarding the claimed properties of no substantial or low acute toxicity, as claimed in claims 66 and 67, while Tapscott is silent to these properties, they would be inherent to the compositions taught by Tapscott because Tapscott teaches similar components at similar claimed percentages. Furthermore, Tapscott clearly suggest reducing the hepatotoxicity of his compositions by partially fluorinating them.

Accordingly, the teachings of Tapscott anticipate the material limitations of the instant claims.
